	Pastors Dominick and Jayne Avella interview Norvel Hayes. Hayes explains that the key to financial success is in giving (helping others, the poor and needy). Hayes himself, at one time, experienced financial lack when his business went under. But God was able to restore what has been taken from Hayes because Hayes dedicated his time and talents to helping the poor even when he had nothing himself. Today, Hayes is a multi-millionaire!

	Attorney Harold Ray moderates a panel discussion on the poverty of the homeless, some aspects of its causes, and a look at what's being done. Panelists: Dr. 'Lois DeLevoe, President of "On This Rock Shelter" in Ft. Lauderdale; Professor Andrew Cherry of Barry University, Biscayne Park; Greg Brown, a provider of food and other help to the homeless in Ft. Lauderdale. A roll-in footage shows some of South Florida's poverty stricken homeless. Many of them disqualify of welfare assistance or medical assistance since they have no permanent home address. Their sporadic employment prevents a steady income. The poverty stricken homeless are not just a bunch of derelicts as some may think. Often many are high school graduates, some college graduates, but for various reasons are out of work. Few have come out of jail. Panelists hope that local churches and various companies provide some facilities to alleviate the suffering.			10-23-89 12:30pm	28:45

	Ray Fico, Director of "Covering Wings," a ministry to the homeless, shares with Jim McCellan some of the needs of people in certain areas. His outreach began with giving blankets to the homeless and poor. He began with giving 240, then felt God directed him to given 10,000. He expects to have given 50,000 in the year 1989. He has spawned 12 satellite stations around the country and is urging churches and groups to begin such a program. Cost of living, health, and many other factors have attributed to causing homelessness.

	Pat Robertson introduces a feature to address a problem: credit cards and the indebtedness they engender, and threat they are to families trying to cope with low wages, high cost of living, especially housing. CBN Correspondent Deborah Whitson reports on different persons whose indebtedness through the use of credit cards hounded them almost to suicide. Bennet Perry, Director of Credit Counselor Corpt, says the worst psychological problem for credit card abusers is being badgered by collectors. Most abusers do not have budges, and finally the credit becomes a form of slavery. All credit card bills should be paid at the end of the month.

	Judy Williams, Director of Suknshine Outreach, a gleaning ministry designed to help the poor, discusses with Jim McCellan the rising numbers of poor and homeless. The high cost of living, the very high cost of housing, and the decreasing numbers of unskilled jobs have contributed to the increase of the homeless and the poor who just need help in getting their families fed. Judy helps glean fields of vegetables and fruits, and such food is disbursed to various feeding facilities. They also collect from the surplus of supermarkets. Judy has written a book to help people organize gleaning groups, methods of collecting and disbursing.

Jim McCellan interviews Kurt and patti Hardy. Kurt, deputy sheriff with portfolio of the Wayside Honor Ranch, tells how he and Patti his wife work at the Honor Ranch and have a prison outreach ministry there. Kurt, Supervisor at the Inglewood Courthouse, is concerned over the youth who get into drugs and crime largely because of the alienation from a stable family. The youth show in many ways their need of love, acceptance, and understanding, most of which they are deprived of. After prison terms, most men find it difficult to get jobs. Kurt is active in helping rehabilitate them. Kurt seeks to get former convicts with changed lives and lifestyles to go back to society and reach other convicts and juveniles.

Panelists: Gene Wilson, teacher/coach; Dr. Jim Flemming, Associate Superintendent of Dade County Schools; Frank Howard, Dade County School Board Attorney; Ruth Jacobs, PTA representative. Flemming pointed out that voluntary initiation of group Bible study on the students' part is acceptable under the current guidelines, but care should be taken that no teacher is behind such efforts. Jacobs says that the PTA encourages religious freedom and the need for students to develop their own positive values. Wilson pointed out that a few years ago he was restricted from having prayer with the athletes, yet various secular groups were allowed to organize with sponsorships, while no Christian club was. Dr. Paul Kienel, Director of ACSI (Association of Christian Schools International) discusses the value of private Christian schools over the public schools these days with Jim McCellan. Dr. Kienel points out that the deteriorating quality of education in the public schools due to lack of discipline both at home and school, lack of parental responsibility for their children's behavior, lowering of test scores, and the violence along with drugs are some of the reasons for the fast growth rate of Christian schools. Christian schools have the advantage over public schools in that they are free to teach basic morals and Attorney Jay Sekulow moderates a panel discussion on the topic of homeschool vs public education. Panelists: Dr. Wayne House, author of Schooling Choices and professor of theology at Dallas Theological Seminary; Greg Harris, author and founder of Home Schooling Workshop; Larry Brandt, Biblical scholar; Mike Farris, President of Home School Legal Foundation; Bob Skolrood, President of National Legal Foundation; Ted Amshoff, Constitutional lawyer from Kentucky. They discuss advantages and disadvantages of home schooling. They point out that education has the power to shape one's mind, and parents are finding that in the public schools they aren't able to exert any control over what their children are taught, even if it contradicts the child's home background values. The origin of education in America was in the home and religious instruction was given. Parents need to bring religious issues into their child's education. There seems to exist judicial hostility and prejudice towards Christianity by the states in their control of the curriculum.

CRIME	Miami Praise The Lord 0202-90 Pastor Ralph and Joanna Diaz host an interview with Pablo Arocha of "He Cares Ministries." Arocha is an ex-convict ex-drug addict and was in prison twice. While in prison, Sister Field came and shared of Christ with Arocha and he was born-again. Now Arocha himself goes into the prisons sharing Jesus with the inmates. Arocha shares of a plan the Lord gave him for a rehabilitation center that would be an alternative to incarceration for those convicts that desire to change. Over 90% of those released from prison end up back in prison again. His plan is a rehabilitation center where these convicts can be educated, taught certain skills, and delivered from drugs so that when they are released, they can go out and make a living. CRIME	Miami Praise The Lord 0216-90 Hosts Pastor Bill Illnisky and his wife interview Ralf Stores, President of Greater Miami, Homestead Chapters, of the American Family Association. Stores explains the effects that pornographic and obscene material have on the mind. He explains that it is a progressive process--an addiction that needs more and more each time in order to be satisfied or fulfilled. He illudes to the criminal acts that follow as a result of acting out the fantasies that pornographic and obscene material create.	L	PA/O	02-16-90 11:30am	59:48

the occult, and its link with crime. He begins by introducing Jayne (fictitious and disguised), who was involved in satanic worship for 14 years. She reveals shocking rituals and practices, even involving the killing of babies and small children. He then introduces Robert Dinkle and Carlos Farina, police officers who give seminars around the state on satanic practices, attempting to warn parents of the danger and the necessity to train their children to recognize recruiters for the cults.

Host, Attorney Harold Ray, moderates a panel discussion on the issue of child abuse and the criminal element involved as a result of such an action. Panelists: Detective Curt Navarro, Hollywood, Florida, Police Department, Child Abuse Division; Joseph Billups, Family Therapist, Broward County Social Services Department; Lorna Spivak, Attorney for Broward County's Guardian Ad Litem Program; and Jeanne Miley, Executive Director, Kids In Distress. Detective Navarro expresses throughout the duration of the program, he feels (and speaks from many years of experience) that child abuse is an out right crime of the worst kind and that the offenders should be behind bars!

Harold Ray chairs a discussion of panelists on crime figures of those who commit multiple and violent crimes. Panelists: Jim Taylor, School of Psychology, Nova University, Ft.Lauderdale; David McNaroh, Ph.D, Assistant Professor of Philosophy from same school; Dr. Mary Branch, Pastor Bible Talk School of Faith, Ft. Lauderdale; Aiko Horman, computer research scientist. McNaron holds man has free will, thus abandoning the concept of supernatural causes, which he says lead to superstition and ignorance. Taylor gives emphasis to environmental and social factors as lead-causes, yet can be controlled by the person. Attorney Ray contends that in explaining atrocious crimes it is basically a matter of determining the external and internal factors that influenced the crime.

	Attorney Ray moderates a panel discussion on the crime of obscenity/pornography. Panelists: Vincent Rizzitello, Detective with the Organized Crime Division, Ft. Lauderdale Police Dept.; Gary Daughenbaugh, also a detective with the same department; James S. Benjamin, Criminal Defense Attorney. They point out that the Supreme Court has defined obscenity in a three-pronged test, often difficult to prosecute if indicted. The detectives must take questionable material to a judge who rules on its probable obscenity, after which arrests may be made. The detectives point out that what they seek to eradicate is hard core pornography in which photographs of sexual activity in its most graphic forms are depicted. They point out it took ten years to rid Ft. Lauderdale of such adult book stores. Benjamin disagreed saying that the rights of adults were being violated.

	Pat Robertson introduces a feature on teenage crime. He interviews David and Phyllis York who tell how their two daughters, brought up in a home with parents and love, yet rebelled, got on drugs, then burglaries and then armed robbery. It's the story of many young people who go into crime to get money for drugs. After their daughters went to jail, the Yorks left them in jail a period in order for them to help pay for their crimes. They admitted some areas of discipline in the home could have been better. The Yorks have organized 1500 groups nationwide to help parents learn to set limits and goals, then seek to take the emotion out of situations, and learn to deal with the problems. Communication and understanding are very important, and often are missing in the homes youthful offenders come from.

	Jay Jones interviews Phil Aguilar, Director and Pastor of "Set Free Ministries", an agency that functions as a church, a home for the homeless, and a resource for food and clothing. Aguilar laments the increase of crime, for it is no longer safe to walk around at certain hours in the streets. The easy availability of drugs as well as guns
